Keynote #1:

The Power of Connecting: Elevate the Impact of Every Conversation

Every conversation counts. To be an effective leader, you must be an effective communicator. To be an effective communicator, you must believe in the power of making a genuine connection with every person you encounter. In this engaging session, Katy lays the foundation for anyone aiming to ignite dynamic, authentic conversations that will take both their personal and professional relationships to the next level. Sharing insights from her years of working with thousands of people, including executives and business leaders, Katy will reveal the straightforward and simple communication strategies that can transform and inspire your work conversations, create a positive impact on your personal interactions, and evoke a greater connection in all your relationships.

Keynote #2:

Exhausted to Empowered: More Energy. Less Stress. Better Life.

Do you dream of waking up each morning feeling invigorated, being full of healthy energy all day, and sleeping through the night? Do you want a life that is less stressful and a mind that is confident, clear and full of joy? Katy wants to help you uncover the secret to living your best life: being fully empowered in both your personal and professional life. Using personal examples from working with thousands of people and from her own journey of rebuilding her body after two severe accidents, Katy will inspire you to create and accomplish goals, perform better at work, be a better partner and enjoy life on a whole new level. If you desire to accomplish more during the day and dream of feeling more relaxed in your own body, this talk is right for you.

Keynote #3:

Crushing Your Communications in Crisis and High-Stakes Environments

Clear communication can make or break a business—especially during a time of uncertainty. But what if you were able to have clear communication in every conversation you had? Think about it. What would happen if—with every email, text, meeting and conversation—you and the other individual(s) were on the same page? Katy wants to show you how. By revealing how to listen deeply, build rapport through verbal and nonverbal communication, understand “meaning and meaning making” and how to set (and reinforce!) boundaries, Katy will teach you how to crush your communications in crisis and high-stakes environments. The result? Effective communication that extends beyond your meetings, the conference room, and even your industry to have a ripple effect through all areas of your life.

Takeaways

- The #1 way to prevent miscommunications
- The four stages of listening
- Build rapport like never before
- Discover your communication style
- Why “no” is the new “yes” and how to gracefully exercise your “no”
- The art of negotiation and how to negotiate with integrity

Keynote #4:

Escaping Burnout to Reset

Business and life are busy, and being a high performer can create consistent pressure and stress to stay on top. After years of fighting, struggling and long hours in your career, it can weigh on you physically, emotionally, mentally and even spiritually to the breaking point of potential burnout, or you might be in total burnout. In this keynote, Katy wants to show you how to banish burnout, ending the overwhelm and exhaustion to finally get your peace of mind back without quitting or taking a step back. Her goal is to share with you her holistic approach so you can take control of your life by achieving ownership of your results and managing stress effectively as you act towards your personal and professional goals. It’s time to reset, so you can live burnout-free and reclaim your time, energy and harmony. Show up as your best self regardless of what’s happening around you.

Takeaways

- Fastest way of getting to the root of your problems and making changes for good
- Examine the clutter, organize for clarity and save time
- Learn how to set up your support environment
- Get the tools to process and navigate unexpected life events
- Create and communicate boundaries without guilt

MORE ABOUT KATY

Business coaches are a dime a dozen. But an intuitive and deliberate executive coach that actually guides clients toward and through breakthroughs to experience transformation in both life and work is a little harder to come by. Katy (Kvalvik) Gala is just that—an expert who provides holistic executive coaching for C-suite executives, business owners, entrepreneurs and leaders ready to experience both personal and professional breakthroughs.

As the creator of the Harmony Method®—a blueprint for work-life harmony—Katy helps her clients find harmony emotionally, spiritually, physically, and mentally in both their personal and professional lives. Most clients come to her with one problem and leave having experienced breakthrough and transformation in every area of their work and life.

After overcoming multiple life-altering injuries—and relearning how to walk—Katy has dedicated her life to empowering leaders to fulfill their missions and live out their life purpose. From today's leading corporate brands to entrepreneur-led start-up businesses, she has worked with companies such as Sony, American Express, Beach Body, Hyperloop Transportation Technologies, Singularity University as well as tech startups like VideoAmp, Pivot Bio and MediGram, to name a few.

An expert in advanced communication skills for high-stakes conversations and presentations, influence and negotiation, and leadership development, Katy is an in-demand speaker at conferences and events across the country and has been featured on several online and television media outlets, including ABC, NBC, Thrive Global, Entrepreneur and more. Katy also speaks on integrative health—specifically stress reduction, chronic pain, gut health, and chronic fatigue. She specializes in helping individuals build resilience, increase their high-performance mindset, and achieve sustainable results by incorporating health and wellness strategies into their everyday life. A graduate of UC Berkeley, board-certified health counselor, certified trainer of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP), certified yoga instructor and business mentor, Katy is passionate about helping people thrive.
